Licence conditions

Your licence is subject to conditions set out in the Radiocommunications Act 1992. Your licence may also be subject to such other licence conditions as determined by the ACMA (in licence condition determinations) from time to time, and is also subject to special conditions as detailed on this licence.

The conditions that are imposed on a licence vary according to the type of licence issued, the service being operated and the section of the Radiocommunications Act 1992 under which the licence has been issued. For further information about the conditions that apply to your licence, please contact the ACMA (see contact details below).

Rights of appeal

A decision by the ACMA to impose further conditions or revoke or vary the conditions of your licence may be reviewable. If you are affected by, and dissatisfied with, such a decision you may apply to the ACMA to have the ACMA reconsider the decision under section 288 of the Radiocommunications Act 1992.

An application for reconsideration must state the reasons for the request, and should be sent to the Customer Service Centre, Australian Communications and Media Authority, PO Box 78, Belconnen, ACT, 2616. Applications for review of decisions can be made using the R051 - Application for review of Decision form, available on the ACMA website.

Important

An application for the ACMA to reconsider a decision to impose or vary licence conditions must be made to the ACMA within 28 days of the day on which you are informed of the decision. An application for reconsideration made after that time may not be accepted.

Certain information contained in this licence record will be disclosed in the Register of Radiocommunications Licences (RRL), established and maintained pursuant to Part 3.5 of the Radiocommunications Act 1992.

Special Conditions applying to licence no.: 1147764/1

Space stations are not authorised unless there is an entry recorded in either the Radiocommunications (Australian Space Objects) Determination or the Radiocommunications (Foreign Space Objects) Determination made by ACMA and the frequency assignments are recorded in the Master International Frequency Register (MIFR) of the International Telecommunication Union.

The operation of stations must be in accordance with the Australian Radiofrequency Spectrum Plan and the Radio Regulations of the International Telecommunication Union.

Stations must not cause harmful interference to stations of other services operating in accordance with the Australian Radiofrequency Spectrum Plan or the Radio Regulations of the International Telecommunication Union.

Stations must use spread spectrum modulation and be operated principally for the purpose of defence.

Advisory Notes applying to licence no.: 1147764/1

Conditions applicable to the operation of Defence station(s) authorised under this licence can be found in the Radiocommunications Licence Conditions (Apparatus Licence) Determination. Copies of this determination are available from the ACMA and from the ACMA home page (www.acma.gov.au).

In determining whether interference is caused to stations of the aeronautical radionavigation service ACMA will have regard to the Report on JTIDS Compatibility with SSR Interrogators by Airservices Australia dated 7 December 1999.

Protection from interference from stations of other services operating in accordance with the Australian Radiofrequency Spectrum Plan or the Radio Regulations of the International Telecoummunication Union is not afforded.

The memorandum of understanding between the Australian Communications and Media Authority and the Department of Defence contains matters relevant to the operation of radiocommunications stations under this licence.

The Master International Frequency Register (MIFR) is maintained by the International Telecommunication Union (ITU) in accordance with the Radio Regulations.

Stations in the radionavigation-satellite service operate in this band.
